WE NOMINATE

Joseph Rock Nini, able and long-working public servant, who this summer—on the threshold of his 35th birthday—is rounding out a decade of service as Clerk of Princeton Township, a pivotal post in the development of a once-agrarian municipality. A life-long Princetonian, with a highly developed sense of responsibility to those he serves, Nini represents what one observer calls a “relatively new type of career municipal official, a trained individual with tenure whose understanding of the past and anticipation of future needs help bridge the gaps created by changing administrations and the varying interests of the public as mirrored in election results.”

The eldest of five children in a deeply respected Princeton family, Nini applied for the position by chance. Word reached him, while he was studying at Rider College, that Martin Clausen, the equivalent in yesteryear of a one-man Township government, was retiring. “I decided to take a crack at it,” Nini recalls, and “I was finally hired in the late summer of 1950 by Mayor B. Franklin Bunn and what was then a three-man Township Committee.” It was Nini’s reasoning ten years ago, just as the population explosion was about to boom in Borough and Township that “Princeton was bound to grow and there was a future in local government.”

Nini’s estimate couldn’t have been more accurate. The Princeton area, one of the last “islands” on the Boston-Washington axis, “exploded”, with the Township’s population zooming skyward from 5,407 in 1950 to its recently reported 10,320. Capping a decade of unprecedented, and uncontrolled, growth was the Township Committee’s decision this week to “admit” light industry to a sector zoned for engineering and research.

Granting a variance to a now miniscule electronics firm could well be a Princeton milestone, for it marked the first time in some two centuries—ever since a modest pottery industry was responsible for christening the Borough’s “Jugtown”—that industry had been welcomed to Princeton Proper.

The mounting complexities of government, Nini notes, first “became apparent in Township Hall in 1952 and for no single reason. Suddenly, what has been a housekeeping job mushroomed and we were confronted by the demands and problems linked with a rising population.” Indicative of the “revolution” in governmental processes was the near-incredible record compiled by the Township Committee in 1959: a total of some 70 meetings, or a meeting every 52 days throughout the year.

Nini, Princeton High School 1943, a member of the Princeton University Class of 1947 and founding president of the thriving Italian-American Sportsmen’s Club, makes time in off-duty hours for on-the-job training. A member of several professional organizations, he reads widely in his fields of competence, participates in Rutgers extension programs and is continuing his studies in Rider College’s evening classes. In the extra-curricular sense, he points with reticence to his interest in golf and, with understandable pride, to his present massive do-it-yourself project—adding two bedrooms and a bath to his Clearview Avenue home.

For emphasizing that “my foremost reward is a sense of service to others and a keen appreciation of all Princeton is”; for adherence to a code of duty placing conscience and responsibility above all else; for his contributions to sound government; he is Town Topics’ nominee for

BIG STEP FOR TOWNSHIP

Permits First Light Industry.
Township Committee voted Monday night to allow "light" industry within the municipality for the first time. Although only a temporary variance was granted to the firm in question, Princeton Electronics Corporation, the Committee indicated that the action
is a hint of things to come.

Only three members of the governing body were present to support the new policy (Committeemen William Marvel and Stanley Smoyer being absent), but Thomas Cook stated that the Committee is solidly "in favor of permitting desirable light industry in the Township." It was indicated that an ordinance will probably be prepared to permit such industry in what is now the "research and engineering zone" on a permanent basis.

To underline its intention to move beyond the granting of a temporary variance the Committee introduced legislation to provide $500 for a consultant to assist with the final ordinance. As Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman explained, the consultant would help define
"certain standards of sound, noise, smoke emission, etc. which might be included in such an ordinance."

Mayor Fairman noted that such an ordinance might also involve an engineering architectural board to advise the Board of Adjustment, passing on the merits of individual applicants hoping to locate in the Township. Both he and the other Committee men present stressed that the municipality would not be opened up to
"just any firm," but that there will be some selection as insured by the ordinance and the suggested advisory board.

Consolidation Delay Hit

Township Committee men, with Mayor Fairman as their chief spokesman, charged Monday night that the Burough Council is dragging its heels on the proposed study of municipal consolidation. "Not only did the Borough fail to match our appropriation of $3500 to underwrite the cost of such a survey," Mayor Fairman commented, "but the time when we had hoped such an undertaking would be started was late spring or early summer."

The subject was initially raised by a letter from Maurice F. Healy Jr., who is attending to the duties of the committee man on the November ballot with Mayor Fairman. In response to Mr.
Healy's question as to what was causing the delay, the Mayor commented, "We don't feel the Township by itself
would get very far in terms of acceptance by the Borough
if we were to undertake such a study alone."

Mayor Fairman said that he planned to express his regret at the delay in a letter to Council asking it to reach a firm decision on the matter
in the near future.

Tax Reasoning Set Forth. Bringing light industry into the municipality is about the only method of keeping the Township's tax rate stable, according to Mr.
Cook. In support of this, Mayor Fairman noted that an industry pays the same rate as home owners but does not demand the same volume of services so that the Township ends up ahead and can at least maintain a stable
rate for its residents.

As an example of this principle, Mayor Fairman figured that if the 28 acres which will probably be bought by Princeton Electronics for its permanent installation were divided into 1½ acre lots, the total assessable value would be about $750,000. But, the homes would generate some 25 children which would mean an outlay of $14-15,000 alone. In addition, the homes would require police protection, road maintenance, etc.
"These would wash out all the income we would get from the residential district," Mayor Fair-man explained.

On the other hand, if an industry occupies the site and builds a plant valued at something over $600,000, it will be paying nearly the same taxes but will not demand the same services. It would not increase the school enrollment, nor would it require police protection, road maintenance, etc., Mr. Fairman pointed out.

In specific, Dr. William Lynas, the founder of Princeton Electronics, testified that his operation would require nothing in the way of services which are not already available. The reply was prompted by a letter from John R. Wilmont of 28 Howe Circle questioning the opening of the Township to light industry.

Board's Resolution Passed. Although the Committee heard the letter and some general comment

from the floor, it concerned itself primarily with the resolution of the Board of Adjustment, presented for the governing body's approval. The resolution grants a three-year variance to Princeton Electronics to turn the Skillman Furniture building, at 175 Alexander Street into a pilot plant for the manufacture of miniature, solid-state electronic devices.

Upon the request of Dr. Lynns, the committee passed an amendment permitting the firm to have a maximum of 15 people on the premises at one time, rather than simply to employ a maximum of 15 people as specified by the Zoning Board. The amendment will permit Princeton Electronics to operate two shifts if necessary.

The resolution approved by the Committee also contains sections requiring that both the liquid and gaseous effluents meet the approval of the Board of Health or the Joint Sewer Operating Committee, depending upon which one is concerned. It also requires that the firm meet the specifications of the service zone in which it is located.

Following the meeting, Dr. Lynns indicated that PDC will begin remodeling the 400 square foot building on Alexander Street about September 1. His plan is to conduct operations there until next year, when the firm hopes to move to a permanent installation in the Township. The permanent plant would probably cost about $1.5 million, including land, and employ some 35 workers, he indicated.

NO ROOM IN THE JAIL

For Vagrants or Drunks. The small, three-cell Borough jail, located in the basement of Borough Hall, is going out of the hotel business.

No longer will vagrants or drunks be able to get a free night's lodging at the taxpayers' expense. In a directive to members of the Police Department, Chief of Police Raymond A. Mondane has ordered that henceforth when vagrants make an application for a bed in the jail, they are to be charged and fingerprinted. No longer will drunks be able to "sleep it off" in a cell, but extreme hardship cases will be referred to the proper welfare agencies, Chief Mondane said.

It was in 1930 that the Borough jail first began taking in people for the night. "The Depression started it," Chief Mondane recalled. "There were so many people out of work during the winter in those days that over in the old Hulsh Street Jail, where the parking lot now is, we had 25-30 lodgers every night. We'd feed them breakfast and then take them outside town to keep them from panhandling," the Police Chief added.

"We've always had a certain amount, even today. As many as eight to 12 a week," the Chief concluded. The new policy follows a recommendation made by the MacNamara Report, a comprehensive survey undertaken by New York Police authorities of the Borough Police Department.

CANDIDATES INVITED

To Campaign Here. Invitations to the presidential and vice-presidential candidates to include Princeton in their campaign tour have been issued by the Greater Princeton Chamber of Commerce. The broadcasting companies, who are seeking to bring Vice-President Nixon and Senator Kennedy together for a series of debates on national and international problems, received copies of the invitation, as did the party chairmen.

If the two men accept, it will be the first time since 1940 that Princeton has been visited by a candidate. In that year, the late Wendell Willkie arrived by train late at night, but was too exhausted to make an appearance.

TOWNSHIP SEES UNANIMITY

By Residents Desiring Sewers. Two groups of residents wanting sewers to serve their properties received praise from the Township Committee at its meeting Monday night. The praiseworthy inhabitants, including five families on Prospect Avenue and seven on lower Mountain Avenue, presented unanimous petitions to the Committee for sewers agreeing to pay the cost of the improvement.

Committeeman John S. Mount expressed his wish that "everybody in the Township would work out their problems as well as these have been," while Mayor R. Kenneth Fairman said he hoped the petitions would "serve as a sort of standard" for future projects. In both cases, all the property owners to benefit from the sewer had signed the petition.

THERE'S A SMALL HOTEL . . . but it won't be open any longer to wayfarers at public expense, says Police Chief Raymond Mondane in announcing the end of a Borough policy that dates back to Depression Days. (Staff Photo.)

The Committee also passed a resolution requesting the tax department to tighten up on its collection of assessments for improvements. It hopes to avoid problems such as that posed by one individual who has not paid anything on his assessment in the past five years (he was originally given a three year extension by the Committee).

In other action, the governing body introduced ordinances to permit Trinity Church to have a cemetery next to its All Saints Chapel; to move the right of way and rebuild parts of Pretty Brook Road to remove dangerous curves; to engage consultants on financing the Sewer Master Plan; and to accept White Pine Lane within the Township's road system.

These ordinances will be considered at the August 23 session of the Committee. The governing body will not hold its regular August 15 or September 5 meetings, but will meet next Tuesday to consider the Rasedale Road sewer, then on August 23 and next September 19.

SMALL "CENTS" SCARCE

And Hard to Distinguish. The current search for a few million Lincoln cents with imperfect dates has been thoroughly explored by Raymond J. Weihaus, numismatist, at 379 Ewing Street. His facts and figures are of interest to would-be collectors trying to make dollars from pennies. The word "penny" is wrong in the first place, since that is a British coin. The valuable cents come from two mints, Denver and Philadelphia, and the Denver coins are identified by a small "D." The small date coins were struck in January, according to Mr. Weihaus, with only two million coming from Philadelphia and several times that amount from Denver.

The difference between the regular and small cents is difficult to detect. The "O" is oval, rather than round, and the other digits are only slightly less clearly defined.

Contrary to current report, the government is not recalling the issue. In fact, no regular issue of coin has ever been recalled since mintage began, although the rumor is rife every time a coin is changed. The small cents have a value ranging from $2 to $8 to collectors only, although coins must be bright and uncirculated to command the maximum price.

was killed last week in a Connecticut Turnpike auto accident. The Harvard pre-medical student was at the wheel of a car which skidded and struck a concrete abutment near East Lynn on the Turnpike.

He died in Lawrence Medical Hospital, New London, two hours after the accident. He was en route in visit friends in Rhode Island when the accident occurred. State Police reported that the car skidded, spun around and slammed into an overpass abutment. Mr. Sambarovsky was pinned helplessly in the wreckage.

The victim had finished his second year at Harvard. He was a scholarship student at the University. A graduate of Princeton High School, Mr. Sambarovsky was the valedictorian of the high school's class of 1968.

The funeral was held at the A. S. Cole Funeral Home, Cranbury. Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Mary's Ukrainian Catholic Church, New Brunswick. Burial took place in St. Peter's Cemetery, New Brunswick.

RESOLUTION PASSED

Honoring Joseph Hoff. The First National Bank has passed a resolution, expressing "profound sorrow" at the death of "our beloved friend and former associate, Joseph S. Hoff." Mr. Hoff died July 25 at Merwick.

The resolution continues: "From its inception in 1893, he has shown his devotion and loyalty to its best interests over the entire period of its existence, serving it as director, acting president and chairman, and at the same time his record in public office, both locally as Mayor of Princeton and his services to the State and County on public boards, has reflected lustre and prestige on this institution.

"His wise counsel, and devoted services will be sorely missed, and his memory will long live in the hearts of his friends and associates."

LICENSE REVOKED

For Careless Driving. In Borough traffic court, Hans P. Bergmann, 20, of 39 Chestnut Street was fined $15 by Magistrate Theodore T. Tamm, Jr. and had his license revoked for 30 days for careless driving. Joseph W. Fitchett, Jr., 22, of 68-B Graduate College was fined $30 for the same violation.

In other cases, Andrew Teague, 47, of 97 Leigh Avenue was fined $15 for speeding and John L. Armonia, 17, of 54 Harris Road, for operating a vehicle with a defective handbrake, was fined $15. Mr. Armonia and Mr. Fitchett denied their charges.

CAR JUMPS CURB

Two injured. A car driven by Steve Johnson, 42, of 28 Lytle Street, jumped the curb as he was driving on Moore Street Sunday about noon, causing injury to himself and a passenger.

Police said Mr. Johnson claimed that, as he was nearing the Intersection of Park Place, his passenger Miss Elma Everett of 116 Leigh Avenue, grabbed the steering wheel, forcing the car to mount the curb and hit a public service pole. There was no damage to the pole and police reported there were no skid marks evident.

Mr. Johnson required sutures to close a cut in his lip. Thirteen sutures were used to close a gash in Miss Everett's arm.

July ended on a mighty soggy note, nodding two inches of rain last Wednesday and nearly four Saturday. As a result, precipitation for the month was twice the normal figure.

Some of that heat and humidity that the early weeks of the summer failed to bring is due for these parts in the immediate future. Showers were a likely companion for a day or two, but prospects for the weekend were better. Generally fair and lower humidity Saturday and Sunday, the Weather Man announced.

News Of The THEATRES

IONESCO SUCCESSFUL

Three One-Acters Varied. "An Evening with Ionesco," the current University Players offering which will run through Saturday at Murray Theatre, is a program of three one-act plays, each different in emphasis, yet all conveying similar messages of human despair, cruelty and stupidity.

The exclamation point following the Players' title is superfluous, since the playwright has used subtler punctuation to mark his dialogue. The cadences of speech in "Fournone," "The Lesson," and "The Chairs" are well enunciated by the casts—and the pathetic outcries of humanity can be heard clearly.

A well-chosen curtain-raiser is "Fournone," presented in its American premiere. It is a short piece, utilizing the situation and characters found in many well-worn jokes and skits for a witty parody and thrust against the human follies of stubbornness and senseless argument.

The cast, consisting of Silverter Craulo, Alfred de Graaff, Roy Bacon and Jinx Prather, argue with each other convincingly through declarative statement. Sample: "I'm right." "No, I'm right, so you must be wrong." The quarrel has no subject, and the play ends when Miss Prather turns her superb 1920's visage to the audience and says, "This is all pretty silly, isn't it?"

"The Lesson" Macabre. Billed as a "comic drama," "The Lesson" falls more under the heading of ironic satire, taking up the theme of human pointlessness on several levels of cruelty and stupidity. Francis Dux, as the professor, takes top honors in the casts of all three plays. His character is developed and changed subtly, yet dramatically. The sinister outcome we leave to future Murray audiences.

Mary Doyle as the professor's young pupil convincingly portrays the agonies of intellect,

BACK AGAIN: Mary Doyle returns to The University Players to act the part of the Student in Ionesco's "The Lesson," next at Murray Theatre, and to play The Stepdaughter in next week's "Six Characters in Search of an Author." Miss Doyle was last seen in "Play," boy of the Western World, which the Players gave last summer.

spirit and body, as she struggles for and with his desperate knowledge. Again, the comic value of her lines develop into a good deal more than that by the end of the play. Elaine Battis strikes the proper note of mystery and ultimate competence in dealing with the professor's follies.

"The Chairs" Trying. The main event failed in its primary sense to cap off a three-hour evening spent in a sultry theatre. Reminiscent of Beckett, and particularly of "Waiting for Godot," the play does not bring into focus that peculiarly doomed state of humankind.

We wait for "The Orator," and unfortunately perhaps he does arrive, unlike Godot. His brief appearance is chilling and he brings the most final of final messages—man is not saved in any sense or by anything, but is condemned to inarticulate mutterings and automated stupidity.

The author's theme is not built up cohesively in this play, but is rather developed sporadically through monologues and duets by the principal characters. Avra Petrides and Louis Negin, who bring a full measure of sympathy to their roles of an old woman and an old man.

Unlike "Godot's" speeches which reach a series of beautifully executed climaxes with the aid of little action, "The Chairs" is cluttered with superfluous toings and froings. The two old people summon up the famous, rich, brilliant and royal personages who have been in their lives to hear the old man's ultimate message of redemption. A heavy piece of symbolism is the setting, and their racing back and forth to fetch the chairs.

Cutting Needed. The language and declamation are present in "The Chairs," as in the others, but the play would undoubtedly gain impact with some cutting and rewriting. An unforgeable bit of theatricalism involves the death-cries of the two principals who all but take nose-dives through Murray's windows.

Moreover, the relationship between the two is never made entirely clear. Miss Petrides is gifted with the ability to evoke a crowd of people, and her lines give the role force. On the other hand, Mr. Negin is left in the dark, whether by design or carelessness is not clear.

Directors Cy Syna, David Sawyer and Daniel Selznik are due their full share of credit for making the plays as comprehensible as they are. Richard Cummings—Continued on Page 6 ming's music for "The Chairs," excellent in itself, is well reproduced, and Betty Matta's set and lighting for the same play evoke just the right mood.

The Players are putting on a challenging and stimulating show, and one imagines the actors feel the same way. Congratulations are in order for avoiding the hackneyed summer stock material, and for presenting an author few Princeton residents have seen, even off-Broadway.

AUTHOR IN THE HOUSE? Players Will Do Pirandello. "Six Characters in Search of an Author," the famous four de force by Luigi Pirandello, will open at Murray Theatre Monday night under the banner of The University Players. The offering will run through Saturday, August 13.

Into the empty theatre, where a company of actors is about to rehearse, comes a man, his wife and their four children. They have a violent story to tell, and they demand that the actors listen and, through a theatrical performance, infuse them with life. It is generally agreed that this drama, in which Pirandello expounds the eternal paradox of reality and illusion, fantasy and truth, is the Italian writer's greatest work.

ject matter give them. Instead, it is to be lamented that the pace is not quicker, that some of the myriad details have not been omitted and that the appeal is not less to handkerchief-carrying members of the female sex.

Bells Are Ringing (August 10-16) suffers from few of the shortcomings usually encountered when a musical is transferred from stage to screen. Credit for this fine adaptation of a few Broadway musical hit of a few seasons back goes to everybody in general but to Judy Holliday in specific. Miss Holliday, for whom the original show was practically custom designed, is back as the delightful and gay answering service telephone operator.

In addition to Miss Holliday, who needs very little help, the movie version of "Bells Are Ringing" had services of the excellent producer-director team of Arthur Freed and Vincente Minnelli, who combined for their joint venture since "Gigi." The transition from stage to screen has also been ably assisted by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, responsible for the book and lyrics for the show, who have provided some fresh material for the movie.

On the acting side, Dean Martin appears as the playwrite with whom Miss Holliday starts her romance-by-wire ("It's a Perfect Relationship") and who finally prompts the spontaneous "I'm Going Back." Members of effective supporting cast include Fred Clark, as the producer; Eddie Foy Jr., as the gambler using the answering service as a "front"; Jean Stapleton, as the answering service head; and Bernie West, as the singing dentist. Recommended.

IT'S NEW To Us

IT'S WOOL FOR FALL.

And Cotton and Broadcloth. Even if you haven't sewed since you made old clothes at the age of 21, you'll be entranced by the wool fabrics at Gretchen's Fabric Shop. This shop is on Route 130, one mile south of the Princeton-Hightstown Road intersection, on the left side of the highway as you drive from Princeton.

Coordinated wools from France combine a grey-green textured weave, which you might use for a skirt, with a jacket plaid which takes the grey-green and adds to it a deep gold and cream. Each is 56 inches wide. The pair together are as evocative of autumn as a copper leaf.

In dress-weight wools, Gretchen's has royal purple worsted flannel and a deep moss grey-green woven with the faintest hint of plaid in its texture. Cashmere and wool have been woven together in a fabric as soft and pliable as a linen handkerchief. It comes in avocado, coral brown, Dior blue or raspberry. Dacron and wool together result in a firmer fabric which is nice to use if no draping is involved. Choose it in soft gold—in turquoise, steel or light gold.

Wool crepe also comes in 60-inch widths, and in colors that includes tangerine, royal blue, two shades of turquoise and goodness knows what else, besides navy and black, of course.

A good, honest red shade of red brings life to a wool broadcloth. It's just as attractive, though, in mink brown. (Speaking of mink, Gretchen's will have real furs to use for trimming the magnificent suits you're going to make from all these brilliant wools.)

Cashmere and wool, which we described above in a dress-weight, appears in a suiting from England which lines up a narrow stripe of black with a slightly wider one in wine or brown. Other suit and coat wools follow the smoky shades of tweed from heather through a shadowy blue flecked with snowflakes like a winter sky to a warm red combined with black.

An unusual woven wool comes in a soft seed stitch or a microscopically cable stitch, just like knitting but the fabric is woven, not knit. Colors are open or turquoise.

There are more wools in this shop than we have space in this column, so we shall proceed to broadcloths of ivory, steel blue, royal blue or copper, among other shades.

And if you want something very new for cocktailtails, we suggest—not a different brand of bourbon, but a very new martini which will make the most potent cocktail suit you've ever had. The material is woven of deep emerald and deep rust-brown with threads that cross and re-cross

Choose Sizes

One of the most interesting new fall woollens at Gretchen's Fabric Shop on Route 130, is a heavy tweed which is completely reversible. It has been woven with a heavy winter coat in mind and would probably be too bulky for a suit, although a slim pencil of a girl could wear it as a skirt.

The fabric consists of a solid color—deep royal blue in the gage—backed by a royal and white tweed in the first instance, and a rust and gold houndstooth plaid in the second.

The two fabrics are attached to one another in such a way that they can be pulled apart at edge and selvage and turned under individually to make a nest hem that does not show on either side.

A practical mother could make a little girl's coat that wears Sunday-best blue on one side, and everyday tweed on the other.

to make three-dimensional pattern of subtle light and shade. More matchless like this will be in from time to time.

Antique silks needlepoint brocades and splendidly fashioned brocades combining black and ivory, are all on the rolls at Gretchen's.

You don't need to be a wool-or-brocade shopper, however, because the fabric shop has fall cottons for each dress (45-inch Gale and Lord solids and plaids); cotton, wool or silk jerseys and the finest printed cotton you ever saw, almost like a lawn.

The shop carries Vogue patterns, and the usual sewing accessories, from thread to silk for linings.

FILE AWAY

In Oiled Wood Desk. Most of the modern desks you find in furniture stores are very nice to look at, with sleek lines and sleek oiled finishes. But they are designed for ladies who write two notes a week and have little to store beyond postage stamps.

A new desk at Nassau Interiors combines the lines and the finish with space, space, space. It's a knee-hole desk, 27 by 61 inches, with two deep file drawers, one on each side, and two standard drawers, one on each side. And if the 61 inches isn't long enough for you, you can raise the leaf hinged to one end and extend your desk to 74½ inches.

The desk is supported on tapered legs and its top is framed by a one-nich hem of wood which is lighter than the wood of the body. (You may have the desk in oiled walnut or oiled teak.) Drawers work from pulls which are framed wooden slots. The price is a surprising $189.

THE GARDEN
The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn (August 4-6) boasts a cast of stars which comes close to putting it in the category of a "spectacular." Just to name a few, Archie Moore, Tony Randall, Mickey Shaughnessy, Judy Canova, Andy Devine, Buster Keaton and Josephine Hutchinson all appear in Mark Twain's classic tale of a footloose boy on the Mississippi River. In many instances, distinctive traits of the particular star show through the character as presented by Samuel Clemens in his novel.

In general, however, the production is surprisingly (for Hollywood) close to the story as originally put down 75 years ago. Edw. L. Hughes is believable enough as the resourceful Huck Finn, rebelling at the restrictions of his aunt's home and finding freedom on the great river with his friend Jim (Archie Moore).

The color and CinemaScope film was produced by Samuel Goldwyn Jr. and directed by Michael Curtiz. Several songs, with lyrics by Alan Jay Lerner, have been worked into the story, but none appear at out of place.

Sink the Bismarck! (August 8-10) is a fascinating, largely nonsense war picture that reaches its climax in epic power through the skillful interspersing of actual newsreel films in key scenes. The stars are Kenneth More and Dana Wynter, and Lewis Gilbert directed. The screenplay, by Edmund H. North, was adapted from a book by C. S. Forester.

In 1941 British military fortunes were at their nadir. The Dunkirk disaster had crippled the army, the Isles were wide open to air raids and all rebuilding efforts were centered around the thin trans-oceanic supply line. Already hard hit by U-boat activities, this line was threatened with extinction if the Nazi battleship Bismarck escapes from its North Sea hiding place.

At this point More, who sternly refuses to reveal his grief over the death of his wife in an air raid, is named chief of naval operations with Winston Churchill's unequivocal command ("At all costs, sink the Bismarck!") still fresh in his ears. His assistant is Miss Wynter, a Wren officer. At first More's strategies are unfruitful, as the Bismarck easily sinks one English battleship and disables a cruiser, but things begin to look up when the plans of the carrier Ark Royal on which More's son is an aerial gunner, are able to damage the German ship. This gives the British battleships King George V and Rodney time to catch up with the Bismarck and engage her in one of the most grippingly realistic sea battles ever put on the screen.

Nassau Interiors is particularly pleased with its new family of mirrors, each made of top quality beveled glass and each one framed with antiqued crackle gold colored metal leaf. (There's a description for you; we took it word for word from the brochure, because we were afraid we'd leave a word out.) You may have oblong wall mirror or oval wall mirrors to hang over a hall table, each one with the same antiqued gold frame. Incidentally, don't be misled by this term "Antique;" the frames are straightforward and without baroque embellishments. Sizes start at 12 by 16 and graduate to a mammoth 36 by 40. There may even be a bigger one, now that we think about it.

For the study, Nassau Interiors recommends at least one of the new little brass table lamps, with their cylindrical bases wrapped in such things as old English deeds (we have a mortgage we'd be glad to contribute) and old stamps mounted decoratively on black or chocolate brown. The bases and fittings of these lamps are brass, either antiqued to a pleasant bronze, or presented with a shiny finish.

One version has a candle base, a candle stick and the general demeanor of a candle, despite its obvious connection with plug and socket. Some eschew the masculinity of deed and stamp and offer instead the pleasing delicacy of Chinese flowers against white porcelain.

The lamps are about 14 inches tall, minus shade, but one is considerably taller. It's a cream colored apothecary jar without decoration, except for its trim of brass.

IN NOVEMBER, KENNEDY OR NIXON? William Goddes (left) and Rende Carroll are on opposite sides of the political fence, with Mr. Goddes favoring the Vice-President and Mr. Carroll the Senator from Massachusetts. To learn why, as well as for the political preference of other Princetoniens, see below. (Staff Photos.)

Question of the Week

Question: Now that it is Kennedy vs. Nixon, for whom do you plan to vote in November and why?

When asked: Palmer Square.

Mrs. William Dorman, Province Line Road, housewife: Nixon, although for a while I was even going to stay home rather than vote for either one of them. I don't believe Kennedy is mature enough. It isn't a question of age. I just feel he hasn't had enough experience. I would have preferred to vote for Rockefeller.

Rose Carroll, Trenton salesman at Langrock's: I'm an independent voter and I vote for the man. My choice this time is Kennedy because: 1 I'm not happy with the Republican administration, particularly their handling of the farm problem. The Republicans have bungled that so badly that I fear we have lost a lot of prestige throughout the world. 2 I would like to see this taboo about a man's religion and politics kicked out once and for all. If Kennedy is elected, it will prove a point and this issue of religion will be silenced for good.

William Goddes, 165 Jefferson Road, vice-president of Grover Lumber Co.: Nixon, because I'm a Republican and because I think Nixon has had more experience for the job. Kennedy's just been a Senator, and I don't feel that gives him the administrative and executive experience needed to run the office of the Presidency.

Mrs. John L. Hady, 78 Dempsey Avenue, teacher: Kennedy, because of the Democratic platform. It is a good liberal platform: the civil rights plank is good and its foreign policy seems strong. I'm not completely sold on Kennedy yet but I am on the Democratic Party. I would have preferred Stevenson who, I hope, will be Secretary of State.

Robert G. Kales, 8 Morgan Place, Lt. j.g. US Navy: Nixon. I believe in the Republican ideals.

Henry Carnevale, 26 Harris Road, Parkersville Inn butcher: I'll vote for Kennedy. I think he's a good man and I believe it will do the country some good to switch to a Democratic Party. The Republicans have been in eight years and that is long enough.

Mrs. Dorothy Bradshaw, 47 Locust Lane, housewife: Nixon, primarily because I'm a Republican. I just don't like Kennedy—I'm from Boston and I know him personally. I feel that Nixon has had as much, or maybe a little more, experience for the Presidency than Kennedy. With me, it is more a matter of personalities than it is of knowledge.

James Lovelace, Plainboro, mover: I intend to vote for Nixon because I believe in the Republican Party and its stability.

Mrs. Robert Gamble, New Canaan, Conn., housewife: I'll vote for Nixon because I think he is the most trained in political and international affairs at the moment. I also feel that Nixon is thoroughly honest in all aspects of his life. I would rather put my trust in him than in Kennedy.

Joseph W. Miller, Princeton Pike, president of Culigan Water Conditioning Co.: Nixon, because I think he is a better man. He's had more experience. He is also a Republican and I have always voted Republican. This may sound stuffy, but it isn't.

Mrs. Marilee H. Smith, Brunswick Pike, departmental secretary for Princeton University: I plan to vote for Nixon because he has a great deal more experience for the specific office as a result of his training under President Eisenhower. I have nothing against Mr. Kennedy—I think he's wonderful—but four more years of seasoning wouldn't hurt him a bit.

Jay Barry, Springdale Golf Club, assistant golf pro: I think I'll vote for Nixon because he hasn't always used the tactics Kennedy has. He hasn't tried to "buy" his way into the White House as Kennedy did in West Virginia for example. I feel that Kennedy would go to any extremes to become president and I fear that some of this ruthlessness might remain if he were elected. I believe Nixon would make a better president because he has a firmer foundation and has had more experience in politics than Kennedy.

Mrs. Brad Liljedran, Alexander Road, housewife: Since I'm undecided, I'm going to start a new party—the cocktail party and the convention will be held in Las Vegas. Seriously, I think it is going to be one of the most exciting contests of the century. At this point, I think Nixon is the more experienced man in world politics and that we need him in this time of crisis.

Rev. Y. L. Sims, 10 McLean Street, minister: Kennedy. I think he is more progressive than Nixon in foreign policy and in civil rights.

Mrs. Herbert F. Marshall, Jr., 329 Mt. Lucas Road, housewife: I'm a Republican, I like Nixon, and I plan to vote for him. I think Kennedy is a very nice young man but I am surprised the Democrats nominated him because he will be the easiest man for the Republicans to beat. Johnson would have been much harder.

L. V. Sylvester, Jr., 432 State Road, banker: Nixon, because of the fundamental difference in the doctrines of the two parties. One party believes in giving everything away; the other believes in free enterprise.

Charles W. Harris, resident auditor, Nassau Inn: Nixon. I feel that he has been well-trained under a good man, President Eisenhower, and I believe he has the qualifications to continue the Eisenhower administration.

Mrs. Martha Marra, 173 Harrison Street, housewife: Well, I'm not going to vote for Nixon—I just don't like him. In my case, things have been a little tough this year and I think this country is ready for some new, young leaders like Kennedy who might change things and who will be good for this country's future. —Continued on Page 14

William T. Applegate, 41 Tee-Ar Place, bookkeeper. Ordinarily, I'm a Republican but for this election, I haven't made up my mind yet. I must say, I think Kennedy, with his experience in the Senate, is a very capable man and he'd probably make a good president. The team of Johnson and Kennedy is going to be very hard to beat and I personally think Kennedy is going to win. The Democrats want a winner and they've got one in Kennedy. In comparing Kennedy with Nixon, on a basis of ability and experience, Nixon probably has an edge.

Mrs. W. L. Liegett, 231 State Road, housewife: Nixon, because I'm a Republican and I think Nixon is more prepared and more qualified. For the past eight years, he has been groomed for the job. His recent press conference was one of the best I've ever heard. It was direct and forceful. He didn't hedge in any way. It was "yes" or "no."

Edward Lyden, Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, research assistant in Geology Dept. of Princeton don't plan to vote for either until I hear what both of them have to say. They're both saying so much of the same: there's too much agreement between the two parties at the moment. I want to hear more on how they feel about foreign policy, the farm question, their plans for aid to education, etc. I'm going to listen very carefully to campaign speeches, particularly what are they implying rather than what they are saying.

Mrs. S. Y. Husaral, 226-B Harrison Street, housewife: Nixon, because principally I'm a conservative and the Republican Party, in essence, is more conservative than the Democratic Party, so I back their candidates.

ADVERTISING VOLUME is based on results. That's why TOWN TOPICS carries more classified advertising each week in the year than all other Princeton papers combined.

BLOOD DONORS NEEDED
By Princeton Service. The Princeton Blood Donor Service has issued a strong appeal for additional volunteers. Terming the need for donors "desperate," the Service has issued a recruitment call to all residents of the Princeton area.

Co-sponsored by the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross and the Princeton Hospital, the Blood Donor Service is now in its 11th year of continuous operation. Any patient in the Princeton Hospital who needs blood may obtain it free of charge through the Service.

Since its inception in December, 1949, the Service has received 11,066 pints of blood from volunteers. According to the Red Cross, these donations have "saved countless lives and helped many others on the road to rapid recovery."

In most communities, people who need blood must either pay for it or enlist friends and relatives to supply it. But in Princeton, owing to the service's unique program, blood is supplied by hundreds of civic-minded persons who respond to appeals and volunteer to give this "gift beyond price." Exhaust recruitment of new volunteer donors to replace those who can no longer participate and because the community is increasing in size, the Blood Donor Service has asked for "the generous help of everyone physically able to give blood."

Anyone between the ages of 18 and 60 who is in good health is a potential donor. Those wishing to join may call the Red Cross at WA 4-2404 and make a date to enroll in the Service. When the need arises for a particular blood type, the individual is contacted by the Red Cross.

Next week, the Seminary President will be in Geneva, for the annual meeting of the executive committee of the World Alliance of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches. In addition to serving as secretary for the Alliance, Dr. McCord is also chairman of its Theological Department and its Calvin Publications Committee. The Publications Committee is currently producing a series of previously unprinted sermons by John Calvin as well as the first edition of Calvin's "Institutes of the Christian Religion" to appear in Portuguese.

Dr. McCord will return to Princeton in mid-August by way of Port of Spain, Trinidad, where he will take part in a meeting of the Caribbean Consultative Committee of Presbyterian Churches.

FOUR PHYSICIANS ADDED

To Hospital Resident Staff. Four new resident physicians have joined the General Practice Residency training program at Princeton Hospital. The additional young doctors, two of whom, bring the number of physician trainees to seven.

The new physicians include two women, both from the Philippines and two men, one from Formosa and one from the Philippines. Among the group is Dr. Lolita L. Arcellano, a native of the Philippines, who comes to the hospital with a background of three previous years in the United States.

Beginning in 1957 she served for a year as rotating intern at Wesson Memorial Hospital, Springfield, Mass., and in 1958 she was assistant resident in pediatrics at Cumberland Hospital in Brooklyn, N.Y. The following year she served as resident pediatrics at the same hospital. The other woman, Dr. Silva Trinidad, received her M.D. degree with Dr. Arcellano from Saint Thomas School of Medicine, the Philippines, in 1955. Following a year's residency in obstetrics and gynecology at Chicago's Augustana Hospital, Dr. Trinidad was associated with the New York Infirmary for two years. She is the daughter of the Undersecretary of Agriculture and Natural Resources of the Philippine government.

Dr. Chia-lang Liu, the young Chinese doctor, is a native of Taiwan, Formosa, where he also received his medical education at National Taiwan University School of Medicine. For a year and a half he served as a medical officer in an army hospital and then served as resident physician in Hsu's Surgical Hospital in Taiwan.

The fourth new resident is Dr. Renato M. Mendoza, also a native of the Philippines and a graduate of the University of Santo Tomas School of Medicine. He interned at Christ Hospital, Jersey City, and served his residency at St. Francis Hospital in Trenton last year. Dr. Mendoza also has a physician sister who is serving her residency in a hospital in northern New Jersey.

Report from THE MAYOR

Two giants. In the space of just a few days, the Princeton community has lost two giants among the roster of outstanding citizens who have added outstanding public service to their many years of activities in the community.

It was 30 years ago that Mayor Joseph S. Hoff began the first of three important terms as Mayor of the Borough. Many residents are too young and some have adopted Princeton too recently to have lived through those years of great municipal achievement. Many others will recall the foresight and vigor with which Mayor Hoff pursued a number of projects, notably the modern system of sewage disposal which may be "unfamiliar" but is vitally necessary to community life.

Councilman And More. Princeton also mourns the loss of that great and friendly former Borough Councilman, Mike Kopliner. Much has been written about his knack for remembering people and of the warmth of his greeting and his friendship.

His name is one that will always be remembered, too, because he was a man to be reckoned with. His service on Council was just one of many community interests.

He was proud to have a fine son serving on both Borough and Township police forces. They must be proud to carry forward the name that has, through their Dad's efforts, meant so much to the spirit of this town.

Tercentenary. New Jersey mayors this week received letters calling upon each community to participate fully in the celebration of Jersey's 300th anniversary. The year 1964 will mark the tercentenary of the events which mark the beginning of the separate history of New Jersey as a colony.

Mayors are asked to appoint a municipal tercentenary commission to plan for special ways of recognizing the State's birth and growth. It is hoped that there might be special publications on the history of our town, that attention be paid to historic buildings. Princeton will doubtless wish to take part in these statewide efforts to focus attention on the great accomplishments of the Colonial Era. The secretary of the New Jersey Tercentenary Commission is Roger H. McDonough of Princeton.

Prospect Avenue. Contracts have been signed and construction will soon begin on the extension of Prospect Avenue to the Borough-Township line. Also under way is the Franklin Avenue paving. Councilman Colman has been taking a serious look at the Borough-owned land off Elm Road—the so-called northwest sewer field—with an eye to possible future development as a recreation site.

"Tell It To The Mayor!" The regular weekly open house sessions will be held on Friday, August 5, and Friday, August 12, from 7 to 10 p.m. at Borough Hall. No appointment is ever necessary for these informal meetings.

Visitors will not always be aware of this, but their questions, comments and views on local problems provide a very helpful background for those of us in Borough government. It was good to get back to this weekly exchange after a vacation absence.

SEMINARY CHOIR RETURNS

From Eight-Week Tour. The Princeton Seminary Choir returned to Princeton Saturday after an eight-week tour covering Central America, the Republic of Colombia, and 11 states in eastern and southeastern United States. The Choir led more than 120 services of worship with its traditional program of sacred music.

Dr. David H. Jones, who organized the Seminary Choir in 1934, directed this year's tour, the 15th annual summer trip by the all-male group. Twenty singers are chosen from the regular winter choir to go on the annual summer event. During the current tour, the Choir became the central feature of the first Protestant-sponsored radio and television broadcasts in several Latin American cities.

After leaving Princeton June 7, the group first sang in Baltimore, then Virginia, North and South Carolina and Florida before flying to Colombia. After spending more than two weeks in the South

To the Editor of TOWN TOPICS:

As Chairman of the Princeton-Mercer County Committee to draft Rockefeller, may I extend the appreciation of the committee for all the many volunteer helpers who worked with us in our efforts to secure the nomination of Nelson A. Rockefeller.

In a period of two weeks, with absolutely no budget, and very little national and state organization help, 5,000 signatures were gathered throughout the State, 800 in the Princeton area alone.

Now that the convention is over, it is the hope of the committee that all who worked for Mr. Rockefeller and aligned the petitions will now put their full efforts toward the election of Richard Nixon.

QUIET SESSION LIKELY

At August Council Meeting, A light agenda has been announced for Tuesday's 8 o'clock meeting of Borough Council. At one point, ancient history will play a part when a resolution on tax records is introduced to clear up the fact that a 1918 tax bill had been paid, despite evidence to the contrary in county records.

The governing body will also introduce an ordinance for further sidewalk construction, and expects to amend further the existing traffic and parking ordinance in line with recommendations of the Safety Committee and Borough officials. Purchase will be authorized of a spreader for use in ice control and street maintenance.

MAYOR MALE TO SPEAK

To Princeton Democratic Club: "Princeton and Los Angeles" will be the topic of a speech Mayor Raymond F. Male, recently returned from the Democratic Convention, will give at the Wednesday night meeting of the Princeton Democratic Club. The public is invited to attend the meeting which will be held at the Chestnut Street Firehouse at 8:30.

Mrs. Clifford L. Lamar, Jr. of 192 Loomis Court; Mrs. Sylvain Bromberger of 121 Mt. Lucas Road and Assemblyman Edward J. Sweeney of 181 North Harrison Street will give reports on the progress of the registration drive in the Borough and Township. Committeemen, women and Election Board officials are urged to attend.

TOURNAMENTS ANNOUNCED

In Lawrence Township. The following contests and tournaments in Lawrence Township have been announced by Committeeman Samuel DeGasperi, Director of Lawrence Township Recreation:

The Tennis Tournament will be held Monday through Wednesday at the Lawrence Junior High School. It is planned for four divisions: Junior Girls 12-15, Junior Boys 12-15, Senior Girls 16-18 and Senior Boys 16-18. The Junior division and senior division play-offs in the Little Minor League will be held, also at the High School, August 15-16.

A quilt doubles tournament August 17 at the Lawrenceville Fire House and a fishing contest at the Lawrenceville School Pond three days later complete the tournament schedule. Additional information regarding the tournaments and registration may be obtained by calling TW 6-0656 before 4.

BUSINESS In Princeton

FILM LIBRARY FORMED
 For Industrial Education Use.
 Two Princeton area residents,
 Frederick W. Bright of Princeton and L. Hamilton Holton of Faxonington, have formed a new Industrial Education Film Library. Its headquarters are at 3
 Palmer Square.

"We formed this new type library because there is none like it, and there is a definite need for its services," Mr. Bright said.
 "Busy executives, managers, supervisors, engineers and other top personnel in business and government need assistance in keeping abreast of the latest developments and techniques for more efficient and economical
 operations," he added.

The new library is stocked with a wide variety of original audio-visual aids produced by recognized authorities in their fields.
 The films will provide successful techniques for reducing costs, increasing productivity, improving quality of performance and will be of value to training directors
 in their indoctrination and training programs. Prints of films are available for rent or purchase.

The new business partners first learned of the need for such a library through their association with the Industrial Education Institute in Boston, an organization which conducts seminars on management techniques in major cities throughout the world. More than 4,000 key management personnel from 5,000 corporations have attended over 750 of these seminars, Mr. Bright pointed out.
 Having attended them, they want visual aids for use in their own plants to help further indoctrinate employees. "Until now," Mr.
 Bright, concluded, "such materials
 did not exist."

Mr. Bright is executive Director of Program Development for the Industrial Education Institute, and director of the Society for Industrial Education. Mr. Holton is vice-president in charge of production at Empire Productions, Inc., a motion picture firm in New York City. Both have been residents here for over 17 years.

GEARHART INCREASES STAFF
 District Manager Named. Robert
 H. Price has joined Gearhart Enterprises, automobile and truck leasing firm located at 242½ Nassau Street. Mr. Price will serve as district manager in charge of long-term leasing.

A resident of Rocky Hill, the new district manager recently completed seven years in the Air Force, the last two as an instructor in the department of air science at Princeton University.
 Mr. Price lives on Washington
 Road in Rocky Hill with his wife, Marina and two daughters, Sue and Karen.

STAFF EXPANDED
 At Gulick Agency, William Quinlan of Levittown, Pa., has joined the staff of The Gulick Agency. The new staff member will assume the post of claims supervisor and sales representative, assisting Theodore Reed.

A former office manager with the Trenton insurance firm of W. M. Dickinson Co., Mr. Quinlan will assist in all agency operations. Mr. Quinlan, who earned his bachelor of science degree in commerce at Rider

FALL CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED
 By State Oil Heat Council. The Oil Heat Council of New Jersey is opening its fall campaign this week with intensive newspaper advertising, according to Irving Oelbourn, Council president. Some 24 newspapers, covering more than two-thirds of the state, will be used over a 13-week period,
 with more to be added in September and October.

The theme of the current advertising is "Move UP to 1960's Oilheat." Facts for the advertisements and radio commercials have been obtained from a 10-
 year survey of the improvements
 in oilheating equipment.

Dealers in each community
 where the ads are run are supporting the campaign with contributions. They will be supplied with promotional material and objective news on the subject.

TOWN TOPICS is among the newspapers selected to carry the oil heat advertising. The first of the new series of advertisements appears on page 16.

FOOTBALL. OUTLOOK—IV
 This is the last in a series of four articles on Princeton football prospects for 1960.

The Opposition Is Strong. An unusual personnel switch took place shortly after the 1959 season ended will have a beneficial effect on Princeton's football fortunes when the new campaign begins. For a team that is clearly rebuilding, and will be forced to contend on inexperience at several key positions, it will be a welcome, if short-range,
 asset.

Two of the Tigers' first three opponents—both of which defeated them a year ago—will go into the 1960 season with new head coaches. John Stegman, a member of the Princeton staff for the better part of a decade before he moved on to Rutgers, left New Brunswick last fall to step into the departed Steve Sebo's shoes at Penn. Sebo, it will be recalled, was advised that his contract would not be renewed,
 a decision that stuck even after he gave the Quakers their first Ivy title.

Intriguingly, when the position
 at Rutgers was declared open,
 the man selected for it was Pennsylvania's backfield coach, John Bateman. The latter knew full well his chances of being retained under a new coaching administration at Penn were small,
 and lost no time in applying for the vacancy that Stegman's departure created.

From Princeton's point of view,
 the advent of a new coach at both institutions will make the first three games somewhat less difficult than would otherwise have been the case. And in a year that will find the Tigers breaking in a new quarterback and drastically short of depth at end and center, every source of assistance will be welcome.

New Attacks to Be Taught.
 Both Bateman and Stegman will install new attacks, decisions that will pay dividends in the long run but will prove a handicap at the outset—particularly without resort to spring practice. A Caldwell disciple, Stegman will follow the procedure he used when he went to Rutgers and will convert Penn from the T to the single wing.

Bateman, on the other hand,
 is expected to shed the single wing that Stegman had built with a considerable degree of success
 at Rutgers and switch the Scarlet back to T football. Under the circumstances, neither team will be as far advanced early in the season as would be the case if the coaching changes had not occurred.

This is not to say that Princeton is now a good bet to win its first three games. Starting as slowly as they will in view of the large-scale rebuilding program,
 the Tigers may have the ability to trim Rutgers for the first time in three seasons and to continue their mastery of Columbia, which has not won over the Orange and

Navy on Carnegie

Navy's Olympic-bound crew,
 a surprise victor in the July trials to represent this country at Rome, arrived in Princeton Tuesday for daily practice sessions before flying to Italy later this month.
 The midshipmen outwore
 such highly-regarded crews
 as Harvard, Cornell, Penn and California, as well as their own strong piebe shell, in winning the 1960 trials. For the next ten days, the Navy will take two-a-day workouts on the lake over the 2000-meter course in preparation for its defense of the Olympic title that Yale won for the United States
 four years ago.

The Carnegie course was chosen because of the ideal conditions that invariably prevail on the lake, which will never prey to wind, rough water, current or tide. The Navy crew, spars, coaches and trainers will stay at the University Boat House and eat at the Nassau Inn.

PROVEN ASSET: End Jim Blair, a two-year letterman and standout pass receiver, will provide valuable experience for Princeton football team this fall.

Black in 15 years.

Penn, however, will be a rugged, well-balanced opponent, even as early in the season as October 8. In addition to teaching the single wing, Stegman must do some line rebuilding and dig for needed depth.

The Quakers will have betterthan-average backfield talent and will field a team that is likely to throw the ball much more than the Red and Blue did under Sebo
 or his predecessor, George Mun-ger. In fact, there is a possibility that Stegman will start a backfield every one of those members can pass—a real rarity in football.

Harvard the Pick. Pre-season ratings of the Ivy League tab Harvard as the probable bet to replace Pennsylvania as the 1960 champion. This is based on steady improvement shown by the Crimson under John Yovislin, the fine backfield directed by gambling Chuck Ravenel and a series of solid freshman teams
 in recent years.

Last fall, the Crimson blanked
 Princeton, 14-0, and it will be extremely hard for the Tigers to reverse this decision in November. In fact, victory anywhere along the line in November—the month that saw Princeton lose all three of its games in 1959—
 may be quite difficult for the Tigers to achieve.

Named as probable runners-up to Harvard are Penn, Dartmouth and Yale. In a league that is always short of manpower, and likely to produce more than its share of upsets, any one of the four could make it to the top.
 Dartmouth material has tapered off somewhat in the past two seasons, but Bob Blackman ranks as a particularly adept coach who invariably makes the most of what he has. The Indians seem virtually certain to finish in first division, as they have each year since the Ivy League went formal in 1966.

Yale, too, is a major threat to every opponent on its schedule,
 and the 38-20 shellacking that the Blue handed a disorganized Princeton defense last fall is indicative of the potent attack the Elis can generate by November.
 Both the classes of 1962 and 1963
 at New Haven were stronger football units than their Princeton counterparts.

The middle trio of teams that constitute the Tigers' 1960 opposition—Colgate, Cornell and Brown
 —all have a good share of problems, with Cornell the most dangerous of the three. Colgate hasn't been near the 500 mark

for the past three seasons but is landing on a good junior class to pull it up this year. Brown is figured to handle it out with Columbus to avoid the Ivy League cellar.

A year ago, Princeton defeated Columbia, 22-0; Colgate, 42-7; Cornell, 20-0; and Brown, 7-0. Games lost were to Rutgers, 8-4; Penn, 18-0; Harvard, 14-0; Yale, 38-20; and Dartmouth, 12-7. Hopes are that the four 1969 victims can be kept in check, and one or two more added to the list as a means of climbing back over the .500 mark. Of the quartet that the Tigers trimmed a year ago, Cornell will be the hardest to beat again.

Of the five teams that conquered the Orange and Black, only Rutgers is a likely choice to find the assignment too tough to handle again. In other words, Penn, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth are all clear pre-season favorites over the rebuilding Princetonians, for whom anything better than a 5-4 record will be a distinctly pleasant surprise.

P.B.S. TO PRACTICE

Football Workouts Planned. Early practice for the Princeton High School football team will begin August 16 at 8:30 p.m. on the school's football field, co-captains Russ Perone and Dave Smith have announced.

All boys who plan to try out for the Little Tigers are urged to be present. Princeton High's opening game will be against Peddie on September 21.

LACKEY TO RIDE

Will Enter College in Fall. Jack Lackey, who had a career record as a pitcher at Princeton High School of 21 victories and four defeats, will enter Rider College at nearby Lawrenceville in September.

Last spring, Lackey was instrumental in leading the team he captained to the Central New Jersey Group III baseball championship. In recent weeks, he has had several major league tryouts, notably with the Yankees, Pirates, Dodgers, Braves and Giants, but has decided on a college career before pursuing one in professional ball.

In addition to ranking as one of Princeton High School's top baseball players, Lackey was a starting member of the Little Tiger basketball team. Last winter, he paced the Blue and White quintet with 162 points.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT ENDS
With Men's, Women's Doubles.
The 1969 YMCA Summer Tennis

Tournament came to an end this week as the final matches were played in the Men's and Women's doubles tournaments. Dr. Yale Tyler and Irvin Vas emerged victorious in the men's division, while Mrs. Dorothy Katz and Mrs. Robert Sullivan won out on the distaff side.

After squeezing through the semi-finals by a close margin, Tyler and Vas topped the team of Martin Katz and H. C. McKenzie, 6-0, 6-4, in the finals. It was the second trophy for Dr. Tyler, who also won the men's singles tournament earlier in the season.

In the finals of the women's doubles, Mrs. Katz and Mrs. Sullivan defeated Mrs. Simeon Hunter and Mrs. C. Fink Fink, Jr., 6-2, 6-2. Both victors claimed the second championship of the season, after Mrs. Kaiz won the women's singles and Mrs. Sullivan teamed with John Mack to win the mixed doubles.

PLAINSBORO KEEPS LEAD
In Men's Softball, A pair of shutout victories, one a 7-0 forfeit, kept Plainsboro on top in the Men's Softball League during the past week. With two original entries, the Chemical Workers and Teague, no longer playing and Circle Side idle while some of its members are on National Guard duty, action is at a minimum.

Following last week's 7-0 defeat victory over Leo's Road Service Plainsboro nipped Green Gables Tuesday night, with the rout, ruling the game for the last of the seventh. Russ Watson and Joe Fisher each pitched a two-hitter, with Watson the victor despite three errors by his defense. Fisher had another two-hit game to his credit last week, this one a winner at Green Gables, bested Sannino's 3-2. Bob Applegate was a standout for the victors with an ari and fine defensive play at short base.

PAC BLANKED
5-0 by Montgomery. A two-run first inning was all the margin Montgomery Township needed to hank the Princeton Athletic Club Tuesday night in the Tri-County Baseball League. Ken Luck's single drove the tallies across, and the victors added another in the fourth to win 3-0, and hold their first-place ranking.

Last Thursday saw the PAC take its second game of the season as John Mitchell and Vince McCord shared the pitching assignment, with McCord the victor. South Brunswick, Mitchell was the victor, while Dick Burger's triple with two scored was the big blow. Montgomery will be on Harris Field this Thursday at 6:15 for a return game.

RACE TIGHTENS
In Police Youth League, Both the league-leading Engine Co. No. 3 and runner-up Post 76 were beaten in the Police Youth League last week. Meantime, their closest pursuers, the Sportsmen and Engine Co. No. 1 each won a pair to draw even with the 300 mark at 7-7.

In an extra-inning affair, the Sportsmen edged Engine Co. No. 3, 2-1. Tom Culligan of the victors and Ken Turner of No. 3 each collecting a home run. The Sportsmen also defeated Post 76, 4-1, as Turner was credited with three-hit pitching and Tim Kearns and Steve Bowers both had two hits for the winners.

Engine Co. No. 1 outlasted the Eagles, 8-7, as Bumpy Adams hit three two-baggers and Terry Davidson, in a one-sided affair. No. 1 blasted last-place Hook and Ladder, 18 to 1.

WATER CO. HOLDS LEAD
In YMCA Baseball Circuit, With slightly more than a week of action left in the YMCA Junior Baseball League, the Princeton Water Company team has first place on ice. The Water Company line, sporting a loop record of 7-1, holds virtually insurmountable lead over second-place Matthews, which has a 4-4 mark.

In action last week, the Water Company continued its winning ways, edging Bowers, 6-5, and swamping Nassau Oil, 13-1. Matthews, a former cellar-dweller, also picked up a pair of wins in the four-team league, downing Bowers, 7-5, and topping Nassau Oil, 7-4.

THOMES DRUBS ETS
To Sax in Youth League. In the four-team Girls' Softball League, now narrowed to a two-team battle between the Braves and Thes for first place, Thomes walloped ETS, 16-1 to stay in contention with the league-leading Braves.

Bennih Baker, leading slugger for Thomes blasted two homers to pace her team's 16-hit attack. Marion Fugitt was the winning pitcher while Dorothy Moore lost it for ETS.

The Paves continued to hold on to the number one spot by blanking Ideal Locuity, 10-0. Louraine Di ler got the game's only eave hit, a triple off losing pitcher Glenn Nerison. Beverly Mischetti earned the win, the Braves' eighth. It was Ideal's eighth loss.

A postponed July 25th game between the two league leaders, Braves and Thomes, will be played next Tuesday and Ig is at Trenton's Heinz Field.
